Hi Nasir - so the way it will work is the 25% payout to you is after all expenses in VQR mining labs. the 50% to VQR will be classified as an expense. VML has incentive to discontinue the relationship with VQR as fast as possible, if able to.

The original justification for 25%, is that this is the usual performance fee on VC projects. Does not apply to revenue, just perf incentive.

As for VPFM - we will have to net out all performance in the same portfolio - this will include bixin, etc. but will share more once we have the accounting updates.
